John Bunyan's Immortal Allegory

PROBABLY no book, save the Bible, has been so extensively read as Bunyan's inimitable allegory,

The Pilgrim's Progress.

It has been translated into nearly all the different languages of Christendom and been perused with delight and holy fervor by all nations. Art has lent her attractions to portray all the incidents, from the rough Wood Cut to the exquisite Steel Engraving. But it is the middle of the nineteenth century, and to an American clergyman are we indebted for the only pictorial conception of this immortal work.

The novel and sublime idea of embodying the entire story, and transferring the same to a single picture, showing the wanderings of Christian from the City of Destruction to the Celestial City, presenting at one view to the eye the varied scenes through which he passed, originated with Rev. DANIEL WIGHT of Massachusetts. His highly original and beautiful conception was reduced to a most elegant design by HAMMATT BILLINGS, and from this design JOSEPH ANDREWS, the distinguished historical engraver, has produced, after four years of labor, a picture which will take rank among the most superb and elaborate productions of human genius [illegible] skill.

The picture is now ready and will be offered at the Bookstore of the Publishers, and by Agents duly appointed by the Publishers.

A Good Story.

WRITTEN FOR CHILDREN

"Go away, Willie, I hate to be teased when I am reading," said Annie Mason to her little brother, who was begging her to get him a drink of water.

"I tell you I don't want to go down stairs now, can't you wait for Bridget, she will be home soon."

"Oh, why can't you get me some water," cried the poor child, impatiently, and bursting into tears, he threw himself sobbing on the floor.

"I wont get you a drink, now, because you are so cross, and cry for it," said his sister, and she tried to feel that she was having very properly, in punishing her little brother for his fretfulness.

Annie went on reading her book, and soon forgot all about Willie, who, after crying bitterly for a while fell into a troubled sleep. His face was flushed, and the breath came quick and hot from his parched lips.

The children had been left at home for a day with the nurse, while their mother visited a friend in the neighborhood. Annie was ten years old and Willie nearly five. She was quite old enough to take charge of her little brother and amuse him, and this she was generally quite glad to do, for Willie was a merry, happy child, and loved his sister very dearly— They almost always were good natured and happy, and sometimes Annie was selfish, and did not like to take trouble, and when she was cross, Willie was ten times worse than if she had been good natured.

After a long time Bridget returned from her errand, and found Willie still lying on the floor asleep. She took him up and laid him on his bed in the nursery. When Mrs Mason came home she found her little boy in a high fever; he could not be roused up, but lay in a heavy stupor. He was immediately put to bed and everything done for him that was thought likely to relieve him. In the morning he was no better, and a physician was sent for who pronounced him in a dangerous condition. He had all the symptoms of a scarlet fever, and was quite delirious. Annie stood by anxiously watching to hear the doctor's opinion, and when he told her mother the child was very ill, and would need the most careful attention, she could not help sobbing aloud. The doctor told her not to be frightened, for he hoped her little brother would soon be well. Annie did not cease crying at the comforting words, for she could not forgive herself for her unkindness to her brother. Oh! how her heart ached when she thought of her cruel neglect, and how many times she said to herself, She would never be so unkind again!

For two days Willie lay in great suffering—he did not seem to know any one, even his mother whom he loved so dearly, called him in vain. He never spoke to them again, and on the morning of the third day he died.

No one knew, when Annie threw herself with a wild, despairing cry, upon the bedside of her dead brother, how hopeless and bitter was the sorrow of her heart. She knew that never again could she recall her cruel words—those last words that William had ever heard, so selfish, so cold, and so cruel. Oh! that was indeed the bitterness of death. If he had only lived to speak, to tell her he forgave her unkindness, to give one kiss of reconciliation and love, she thought it would not have been half so hard to see him go down to the cold grave—But now all was over. The little brother she loved so well was gone forever. All his pleasant ways and loving words came thronging back to her heart and she could only remember her own selfish cruelty to him when he was sick and suffering. She tried to comfort herself by saying, Oh! if I had only known that he was sick—if I had thought to look at him, I might have seen he was not well, and then I am sure I would have done every thing for him. Oh! how thoughtless, how selfish, and how cruel I was.

After the funeral, when they had returned home, and Annie sat by her mother, in the still evening, she told her with many sobs and tears, how unkind she had been to her little brother on the first day of his sickness and how very dreadful it was to know that she could never ask his forgiveness, never hear his sweet voice to tell her he loved her again. Her mother wept bitterly, too, but she told Annie that her little angel brother could feel no sorrow or pain, that he loved her even better than he did when on earth, for he was redeemed from all sin, and could feel no anger or resentment, but that his heart was full of compassion and love.

After the confession, and her mother's comforting words, Annie felt more composed and resigned than she had before, but she never could quite forget, and never ceased to regret the last harsh words her darling brother had ever heard from her lips. It was a lesson to be remembered forever, and its influence was felt by her through all her life. When she felt tempted to speak unkindly, she thought "these "may be our last words," would come with a pang to her heart, and she was humble and gentle as a lamb.

'Years passed by, and Annie grew to be a woman, loving and beloved by all, but in her heart she never forgave herself for her last words to Willie.

John S. Sayward, Editor

MONDAY, NOV. 28 1853

☞ We barely escaped the publication, Saturday of an acrostic bearing the name of one of our citizens, and, under the circumstances, calculated to arouse his indignation, and to awaken the attention of the whole community. The article in its general character—with a general application—was well enough, but when made publicly personal was, to our mind, really outrageous.

The article was handed to us by a personal friend and neighbor, and in a manner and with a partial explanation likely to lull all suspicion of any lurking stiletto being concealed within the drapery, but which to the writer gave it all its force and significance. The use of such an instrument in such a manner would have placed us in an uncomfortable position and have exposed us to the censure and indignation of community, and very justly, too, had we published the article with a knowledge of its double character.

There is a watchfulness, constant, untiring, always required of editors, and his numerous letters and communications he must scrutinize with the utmost vigilance. This is expected of him. This he is bound to do. But when a man, with the kindly look of friendship, hands an editor an article, fair upon its face, but concealing a sharp, piercing dagger which cannot fail to reach its intended victim, and no mention is made of it, shall the editor be suspicious, watchful, and prying then? We should as soon have thought of finding poison concealed in our food as come as to have found the dagger in the poetical article referred to.

Is it not about time that people had learned the fact that they have no right to dodge behind an editor for the purpose of shirking responsibility, and that they should offer nothing for publication and which, as an editor, they would not be willing should bear their signature. Above all, an editor who is willing to take the responsibility of conducting a daily paper, single handed and alone, should not be deceived and led into a trap by an artfully concealed acrostic. We regard the attempt to make use of our columns as the medium of an infernal machine, by which to stab one of our prominent citizens, as a very mean thing, a wrong thing, a disgraceful and contemptible thing, which well deserves a cuff and a kick.

☞ One of our citizens whose embarrassments several years since compelled him to go into bankruptcy, has since paid out in clean cash between nine and ten thousand dollars in payment of the debts he then owed, and on which the holders had no legal claim. This is as it should be—the bankrupt law relieved him from embarrassment and enabled him to do business, and from the avails of that business, like an honest and true hearted man, he has been paying off his creditors. Such a man will deserve to prosper and to be commended and we should like to mention his name if we had permission to do so.

☞ In New Brunswick the late heavy freshet did much damage all over the Province.—Bridges have been carried away, mills swept off, and fifty thousand trees have been set adrift from the various streams emptying into the St John. The Nackawickac Mills, owned by Purelap & Treadwell, were carried off together with some nine thousand trees which had been laid up as a spring supply for the mills, and some four thousand more which were lying in the stream. All this immense weight was forced down on the bridge across the Nackawickac, which, as a matter of course, gave way and the whole was scattered, in "confusion worse confounded," into the current of the St John.

☞ Rev. Sabin Hough of New York city, proposes to commence, on the first of January, the publication of a weekly paper, "The Herald of the New Jerusalem," at $2 a year.

The object of this paper will be to extend a knowledge of the internal truths, and the external order of the New Church, called in the Revelation The New Jerusalem. Also, to be a medium of general information, in regard to the progress and dissemination of the Heavenly Doctrines, to keep its readers informed in regard to every event that can interest them in connection with the progress of the Doctrines, the formation of Societies, and the uses performed by the various associations of the New Church.

☞ One of the English naval newspapers says there can be no doubt that if the junior officers of the late expedition in search of Sir John Franklin had commanded instead of their seniors, the north west passage would have been made many years since and perhaps some account given of the fate of Sir John Franklin. It is perhaps a severe observation, says the Springfield Republican, but its truth must press upon the mind of everybody who has watched the proceedings of each expedition closely.

☞ The National Democracy, or Hard Shells of New York, held a mass meeting at Metropolitan Hall, on Wednesday evening, for mutual congratulation upon the triumph of their principles at the recent election. Major Westervelt presided, with the "assistance" of no less than eighty-eight vice-presidents, and forty-four secretaries. An address to the Democracy of the State was adopted.

☞ The New Bedford Mercury states that at the recent term of the Supreme Judicial Court in that county, there were no less than twenty-six applications for divorce, of which nine were granted, three dismissed, several partially heard and the rest continued.

☞ They have a wonderful faculty of being personal in their writings down in Ellsworth without calling names.

☞ The Boston Traveller of Friday evening says that F. A. Babcock, of St Andrews N B, who was so severely injured by the late accident on the Fall River Railroad, died of his injuries on Thursday at North Bridgewater, Mass. Mr. Babcock was a native of Bangor, Me., but has been engaged for some years in shipbuilding at St. Andrews, and had just completed a large ship, called the Star of Empire, for a firm in New York. He died from internal scalding. Rev Mr Potter will probably recover, and the others injured are doing well.

P S We received Saturday evening, after the above was put in type, the following communication:

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

The recent terrible calamity on the Fall River Railroad, has brought desolation and anguish to many hearts. Mr Babcock of St. Andrews, a distinguished merchant and valuable member of the community in which he lived, left his home last week for the purpose of going to New York on business. He was accompanied by his venerable father, (who resides in this city) as far as Portland. He then bade him an affectionate farewell, and they separated, he to continue on his journey, his father to return to Bangor.

Who can tell the agony of that parent when it was announced to him by telegraph, that the son he loved so much, the staff of his declining years, was among the injured in the dreadful collision of the cars at Stoughton? Mr B lingered, until Thursday morning. Oh, what recklessness of human life! Words cannot express our horror and indignation. L.

Putnam's Monthly for December, 1853

We have received from Messrs Petridge & Co, Boston, through Messrs Patch & Lewis, the December number of this able and highly interesting magazine. This number closes the second volume and the first year of the work. It has been well sustained every way, and is an honor to the periodical literature of the United States.

The new volume commencing in January, will be characterized by the commencement of a series of articles giving a popular account of the public and private life of Washington by an eminent American writer, and illustrated by the graphic pencil of Darley. Each future number is to contain an illustrated article.

Messrs Patch & Lewis receive subscriptions for this work.

☞ Slave property in Missouri is said by the St Louis Republican to be in a very insecure condition, and in the counties where this description of property is mostly held, a general alarm prevails. Slaves escape in gangs across the Mississippi continually. In Marion county a public meeting has been held—a society formed to prevent the escape of slaves, and a system of patrols adopted. A complete description of all the slaves held by members of the association is required of them. Another meeting of the same kind has been held in Howard county, at which it was resolved to expel all free blacks from the county, and to have patrols, &c.

☞ The nautical life-bucket is a late and ingenious invention, effected by placing a small bucket inside a large one, and filling the vacuum with cork, which renders the bucket a life preserver, and capable of sustaining in the water four hundred pounds live weight. It is about the usual size of the ordinary pail and holds about the same quantity of water.

☞ We are indebted to Samuel L. Perkins, Esq., for papers received on Saturday.

RAILROAD DAMAGES.—A claim of much interest in relation to railroad damages, was recently made by the Supreme Court in the State of New York. It is the case of the "Troy and Boston Railroad Company vs Lee," which may be found in the 13th volume of Barbour's Reports thus given:

"In making appraisals of the damages sustained by a person whose property is taken for the purpose of a railroad, the true rule is, to determine what will be the effect of the proposed change upon the market value of the property remaining. The proper inquiry is, what is the entire property now fairly worth in the market—and what will that part not taken be worth, after the improvement is made."

Bigler is the surname of the Governor of the Keystone State of Pennsylvania, and his brother is Governor of the great State of California.

THE TARIFF AND THE IRON TRADE.—The N. York Tribune presents the following facts under this head:

In 1842 the consumption of iron was about 300 000 tons, of which about 80,000 were imported, leaving 220 000 for the domestic production. In 1846 the consumption had risen to 800,000, of which our own furnaces and mills supplied 7[illegible] 000, having the import still at about 50,000 tons, and with an obvious tendency to decline, as the domestic consumption was gradually reducing prices below the cost of importation. In this state of things it was that an ad valorem of 30 per cent was substituted for a specific duty. Shortly after, prices fell abroad, and duties fell with them, and thus did the government aid in destroying all who had ventured to invest their means in that branch of manufacture. One by one the furnaces and rolling mills passed into the hands of the sheriff, and, at length, the domestic production, which had reached 850,000 tons in 1846 fell to 450 000 or less in 1851. Then competition for the supply of the market having been destroyed, prices went up, and they are almost as high as they were in the time of the great railroad speculation in 1846, although the treasury does not receive more than half as much. The difference goes into the pocket of the great iron manufacturer, who is thus enabled to take bonds, and the more bonds he takes, the more iron he sells, the higher interest we pay, and the more rapidly does the treasury surplus increase.

In France, great attention has been given to the raising of the locust tree, which is invaluable for its durability and hardness, particularly in ship building, machinery, fences, &c.

An Irish woman, engaged in hanging out clothes at the Congress House, Pearl street, Boston, on Friday, fell to the side walk, a distance of thirty feet, but singular to say, received no apparent injury.

The Louisianians are in great joy over an abundant crop of sugar, and the farmers of the West are full of satisfaction at their good crops of wheat and corn, and for which they are receiving such remunerative prices.

☞ The river closed with ice on Saturday night. The steamer Boston left her wharf about 1 o'clock, but was unable to force her way beyond High Head, where she remained till yesterday afternoon when she made a passage through the ice back to her wharf. The steamers Daniel Webster and Eastern State attempted to force their way out yesterday morning but were stopped near the Boston and returned to their wharves in the channel made by the latter steamer.

The river is frozen three miles below the city confining three Steamboats and about sixty vessels with full cargoes in our harbor, but their enterprizing owners and crews will soon remove the ice and set them free.

AMERICAN INFLUENCE IN SPANISH AMERICAN COUNTRIES.—It is, says the Washington Star, the settled conviction of those in authority here, we apprehend, that the governments and people of South America are rapidly becoming anxious for the extension of commercial relations with the United States, and indeed, any and every possible increase of association with us likely to indentify them with us more immediately in interests. This state of things is believed to be the result of the Americanization of Texas and California, which in spite of the national influences of our Mexican war upon the minds of the Spanish American race, so plainly tells the tale of the better economy, public and private, of the laws and institutions of our country. Indeed, even in the heart of Mexico, the sentiment to which we refer above is undoubtedly spreading among all classes of the people.

The result of this growing feeling can hardly fail to manifest itself shortly in our commercial and diplomatic transactions with South America, where we should rightfully have much more extended markets than at present.

BOSTON COMMERCE.—There are now on the way to Australia and California from the United States 265 ships and barques, of which number Boston owns 120 or nearly one half—If we include the eastern ships from Salem, Newburyport, Portland and ports in Maine, it will add twenty or thirty more to the above number. At the present time about fifty ships are on their passage from various parts of the East Indies to this port.

The total tonnage of the United States exceeds 3 000 000 tons, and probably this city owns one sixth, or about 500 000 tons. New York of course, exceeds Boston, as she owns over 800 000 tons. Boston and New Bedford together own nearly as much shipping as New York. New Bedford ranks as the third port in the United States in point of shipping, greatly exceeding either Philadelphia or Baltimore.—Traveller.

ASTONISHING THE NATIVES AT CAPE PALMAS.—The United States ship Constitution recently visited Cape Palmas, the Maryland colony, on the west coast of Africa, and the Commodore sent persons to reconcile the quarrel between the Jarboes and Cavally tribes. The Jarboes told the Commodore to go away or they would cut off his head. This friendly intimation not being relished by the Commodore, he sent an armed launch on shore with a howitzer. The natives assembled in great numbers and threatened to cut the party off if it landed. The Commodore fired the howitzer over the houses and the bursting of the shells brought the Jarboes to terms. They apologized and agreed to forget their enmities, and the hostile chiefs took the oath of friendship by taking a mouthful of water and spitting it out again.

THE DIFFERENCE.—Washington Irving says that man is the creature of interest and ambition. His nature leads him forth into the struggle and bustle of the world. Love is but the embellishment of his early life or a song piped in the intervals of the acts. He seeks for fame for fortune, for space in the world's thought, and dominion over his fellow men. But a woman's whole life is a history of the affections. The heart is her world, it is there her ambition strives for empire, it is there her avarice seeks for hidden treasures. She sends forth her sympathies on adventure, she embarks her whole soul in the traffic of affection, and if shipwrecked, her case is hopeless—for it is a bankruptcy of the heart.

THE "OLDEST INHABITANT."—A correspondent of the Commonwealth says that a colored woman named Boston, resides in South street who is one hundred and nine years old. She was born a slave in the town of Reading, Massachusetts, and became free when slavery was abolished in that State. Relatives of her former owner are still living in Reading, and the age of this old lady is a matter of record. She is a member of Rev Mr Grimes's church, attends public worship on the Sabbath in good weather, and has her hearing and other faculties nearly perfect.

A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.—Our foreign papers contain an account of the ship Victoria, when within a few days passage of Port Phillip, Australia, to which port she was bound from London, April first. She was freighted with passengers and a general cargo—among which, incredible as it may seem, were four hundred barrels of gunpowder! On the 20th of June, at 10 o'clock at night, an alarm was given that the ship was on fire, at which time the passengers were ignorant of the magazine. Every nerve was strained to launch the boats, which was accomplished just as the flames burst forth into the cabin, and all the people crowded in and pulled for dear life.

They had scarcely reached half a mile from the burning ship before the four hundred barrels of powder blew up with terrific force. The ship appeared to be lifted bodily out of the water, and then with the remaining portion of the cargo, shattered to atoms and hurled to an immense distance. The sea for miles was covered with her fragments.

Some fell into the boat, and nearly swamped it, and several of the crew were much burned by the blast of the explosion. The poor creatures were exposed in the boat, without provisions of any description, not even water for 56 hours when they were picked up and taken to Melbourne.

CONCORD, N H, Nov 25.

Justus Squires, the celebrated railroad robber, who has escaped from several prisons, and several times attempted to commit suicide, has escaped from the state prison here this morning scaling the walls by means of a plank.

VERMONT.—Twenty-four ballotings have now taken place in the Legislature of Vermont, for a Senator of the United States, but no progress has been made. The last ballot stood 82 for Kellogg, Dem, 79 for Collamer, Whig, and 13 each for Brainerd and Shafter, Free Soilers—99 votes being necessary for a choice.

Complete returns of the recent vote in New York for Secretary of State, foot up as follows: Whig, 160,671. Hard, 99,498. Soft, 94,189.

The managers of the Philadelphia House of Refuge have awarded a premium of $100 to E. E. [illegible] of Worcester, Mass, for the best essay on juvenile delinquency.

In a lecture before the Manchester (N. H.) Lyceum, Theodore Parker said: "Slavery bears about the same relation to free labor that a clam-shell does to a reaping machine."

It is stated by the Boston Bee that Otis H. Wood, agent of the William Lake Ice Company, has sailed for Australia, leaving behind him liabilities to the amount, it is said, from $50,000 to $75,000 nearly one half of which is to the company.

CALIFORNIA CRANBERRIES.—We have examined three odd-looking fruits, which go by the above name, which were raised in Walpole, Mass., from seed sent from California. They look something like an enormous potato apple, being about an inch in diameter, round and very full, with a dry rim for defence. It is said they will yield abundantly.—Portsmouth Chronicle.

The corner stone for a new institution for the deaf and dumb in New York, was laid at Washington Heights, on Tuesday. The grounds it will occupy are called "Fanwood." The building which it is thought will not be finished in less than two years, will accommodate five hundred pupils.

The Pennsylvania State Poultry Society opened its exhibition at the Chinese Museum, Philadelphia, on Tuesday morning, with some five thousand specimens of the feathered tribes. The saloons are filled with cages. A patent incubator is at work in the upper saloon.

THE GLOBE:

The Official Paper of Congress.

AND NEWSPAPER FOR THE PEOPLE

It will be seen by the annexed extracts from a letter of General Washington to David Stewart, dated New York, 17th March 1790, that the idea of such a paper as I propose to make the Globe originated in the mind of the Father of his Country. He said:

"It is to be lamented that the editors of the different Gazettes in the Union do not more generally and more correctly, (instead of stuffing their papers with scurrility and nonsensical declamation, which few would read if they were apprised of the contents) publish the debates in Congress on all great national questions. The principles upon which the difference of opinion arises, as well as the decisions would then come fully before the people, and afford the best data for its judgment."—Sparks's Writings of Washington, vol 10 p. 85.

THE DAILY GLOBE

AND

THE CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE.

In surrendering my interest in the organ of a great political party, I cherished the purpose of continuing the Congressional Globe and if possible in time, to perfect it into a full history of the action of Congress, giving the debates accurately and fully with the proceedings—all stamped with the verity of an official record. From the passage in the letter of General Washington which I have quoted it will be perceived that he thought this could might be combined with that of a regular newspaper and it is certain that the avidity of the public for news of a less important kind greatly contributes to give wings to the weight of matter which may be called Congressional news.

Having succeeded in my purpose of perfecting the reports of the debates in Congress and giving them the official stamp, I now propose to send them abroad in connection with the news of the day in such haste as shall outstrip [illegible] and occupy [illegible] from the seat of Government in any other form whatever. It will even anticipate the scraps of news forwarded to cities within two hundred and fifty miles of Washington by telegraph. Before the events thus transmitted are published in the morning papers, (for instance, of the city of New York) the Globe, containing them will have reached the post office of that city by the Express Mail of the previous night. The process by which this will be effected I now lay before the public.

I will have a corps of sixteen Reporters in Congress, each in succession will take notes during five minutes, then retire, prepare them for the Press, put it thus up by slip in the hands of compositors. Thus while a debate is going on in Congress it will be put in type and in a few minutes after it is ended it will be in print. I shall by this means be enabled to send by the Express Mail of 5 o'clock P. M., for the East, West and North, and by that of 9 o'clock P. M. for the South all the proceedings of Congress up to the ordinary hour of adjournment. Thus the accurate debates of Congress will reach the cities two hundred and fifty miles from the Capitol before their daily morning papers are circulated.

The miscellaneous news I shall be careful to gather from remote sections of the country by telegraph. I will obtain from the Executive Departments, through official sources, the matters of moment transacted in them and through agents employed for the purpose, all the city news. In consequence [illegible] to the Globe and mailed in the Express Mail trains. In this way I hope to create [illegible] the dissemination of news from Washington [illegible] newspaper has attempted to give authentic accounts of things done at Washington before the public mind at a distance had received its first impression from correspondents [illegible] or by letter writers biased by peculiar views.

Washington has now become so great a center of political interest during all the year—the proceedings of the Executive Departments and the information collected by them even during the recess of Congress is of so much importance to the interests of every section of the country—that I shall continue the publication of the daily paper permanently, with a view to become the vehicle of the earliest and most correct intelligence.

It is a part of my plan to reduce the price of the daily paper to half that of similar daily papers, and thus I hope to extend the circulation so as to invite advertisers that I will publish advertisements of the Government. I [illegible] subscribers in the cities I hope to submit such terms as will induce them to advertise their business [illegible] throughout the Union, wherever the Globe is [illegible] daily under the franks of members of Congress, all of whom take it, and some of them [illegible].

The installation of a new Administration and a new Congress, [illegible] the course of public affairs as the result of the next session. Many vast territories which were brought [illegible] the last Congress were [illegible] over by the Democratic party [illegible] a Democratic Executive. [illegible] the new land system, the question of [illegible] and making every man a freeholder [illegible] to become one, the appropriation of [illegible] Atlantic and Pacific oceans by a national railroad across the territory of the Union [illegible] the Army and Navy. [illegible] civil [illegible]—all these great questions [illegible] to the cities deeply [illegible] State in the Union will, [illegible] by public opinion, come up for the Government's decision. The new states cooperating with old ones, coming up to the disposed of by new actors in the scenes at Washington, be apt to modify greatly, if not [illegible] essentially, the party organization of the country.

To these elements of interest another is likely to be introduced by the interposition of the agitations of Europe. After nearly forty years of peace in Europe there is an evident restlessness that now seems fraught with the tendencies threatening war, and if war comes in all likelihood there will follow such universal change that the United States can scarcely hope to escape its vortex. Indeed from late events it is apparent that our Government is already drawn into European difficulties. These circumstances are calculated to draw the public mind toward the next Congress with much expectation.

The Daily Globe will be printed on fine paper double royal size with small type, (brevier and nonpareil) at five dollars a year.

The CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE will also be printed on a double royal sheet in book form, royal quarto size each number containing sixteen pages. The Congressional Globe proper will be made up of the proceedings of Congress and the running debates as given by the Reporters. The speeches which members may choose to write out themselves will, together with the messages of the President of the United States, the reports of the Executive Departments, and the laws passed by Congress be added in an Appendix. Formerly I received subscriptions for the Congressional Globe and Appendix separately. But this has not been found satisfactory. It always has it gave an incomplete view of the transactions in Congress and therefore I have concluded not to sell them apart, considering that neighbors can have the advantage of both by clubbing in case individuals shall find it onerous to be at the charge of both.

To facilitate the circulation of the Congressional Globe and cheapen it to subscribers Congress passed last year a joint resolution making it free of postage. I annex it, as the law may not be accessible to postmasters generally.

Joint Resolution providing for the distribution of the Laws of Congress and the debates thereon.

With a view to the cheap circulation of the laws of Congress and the debates contributing to the true interpretation thereof, and to make free the communication between the representative and constituent bodies:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the present session of Congress, the Congressional Globe and Appendix, which contain the laws and the debates thereon, shall pass free through the mails as long as the same shall be published by order of Congress.—Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize the circulation of the Daily Globe free of postage.

Approved, August 6, 1852.

As I sell the DAILY GLOBE at half the price of similar publications, so the CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX is sold for half the cost of so much composition, press work and paper. This I can afford to do, inasmuch as the subscription of Congress almost covers the cost of composition, and this enables me to sell for little more than the cost of press work and paper. It requires the sale of almost 9 000 copies to reimburse expenses. If 500 only were sold the cost of each copy would be about $104. The debates in the British Parliament cost about eleven times as much as I charge subscribers for the debates in Congress, equal in quantity, and as well reported and printed.

The next session of Congress will be a long one, and it is believed the Congressional Globe, for it will reach 4 000 royal quarto pages, as the last long session made 3 742; and the long one before that made 3,901 royal quarto pages—four large volumes each session. If subscribers will be careful to file up all the numbers received by them, I will supply any that may miscarry in the mails. This work increases in value as it grows old. The first seven [illegible] volumes will now command three times, and some of the subsequent ones twice, their original subscription price.

The subscription price for the Congressional Globe (including the Appendix and the laws) is six dollars.

Complete indexes will be made out and forwarded to subscribers soon after the session is ended.

Subscribers for the Daily should have their money here by the 5th, and for the Congressional Globe by the 15th of December. The money must accompany an order for either the Daily or the Congressional Globe. Bank notes current where a subscriber resides will be received at par.

Washington, Nov 18, 1853. JOHN C. RIVES.

SEYMOUR'S GALVANIC

ABDOMINAL SUPPORTER.

THIS apparatus possesses all the mechanical advantages of the Abdominal Supporters now in use, and also some valuable improvements beside the galvanic attachment. It has been tested, approved of, and universally adopted in the practice of all the leading Physicians in New York, Boston, and all other places where introduced, in the treatment of all Nervous diseases which exhibit themselves under so many different heads, and particularly in the cure of Uterine difficulties. The beneficial results which have uniformly attended the use of this instrument are a sufficient guaranty of its utility and general application. The advantages of this over other Supporters are, it cures by its Galvanic action, presents a smooth surface that does not retain heat or impurities which pass from the system, and can be kept pure and healthful.

The attention of the medical profession is respectfully solicited to an examination and test of the instrument. The above Supporters are for sale by GEO. W. EMERSON, Druggist, No 4 Smith's Block, sole agent for Bangor and vicinity.

CEMENT.

BROKEN China, Glass, Earthen Ware, and Fancy Articles, of every description repaired and mended, making it as strong as before broken, without injuring its appearance.

This Cement, which has been proved to be of great strength, will be found particularly useful in every family; the simple manner of its application is alone a recommendation. The adhesive property which it contains is so wonderful that many things will rather break in a fresh place than where they have been mended with it. The variety of purposes for which it may be used are so numerous that it would be difficult to recite them. Its success in mending Glass, China, &c., is extraordinary, no ordinary degree of heat affecting it, and as the joints are scarcely perceptible, articles of this kind may be made useful for years, which otherwise would have been cast away.

TESTIMONIALS.

The following certificate from Dr John C Warren, of Boston, was given 17 years since but will last forever

Boston, Jan 5 1833

Having had occasion to observe that some persons afflicted with Hernia have suffered much from the want of a skilful workman in accommodating Trusses to the peculiarities of their cases I have taken pains to supply myself of the competency of Mr J F Foster to supply the deficiency occasioned by the death of Mr Beath—After some months of observation of his work I am well satisfied that Mr Foster is well acquainted with the manufacture of these instruments and ingenious in accommodating them to the variety of cases which occur I feel called upon to recommend him to my professional brethren and to the public as a person well fitted to supply their wants in regard to these important articles

JOHN C WARREN M D

The undersigned take great pleasure in recommending to the favorable consideration of those who are unfortunately afflicted with Hernia Mr James Frederick Foster as a skilful and experienced operator in the manufacture and fitting of Trusses We have employed him (some of us for twenty years) and therefore speak from personal knowledge of his abilities His early advantages his long experience in the business and the large number of individuals which he has relieved in a variety of cases render him, in our opinion equal if not superior to any manufacturer of the article His Father Dr Gideon Foster, of Charlestown was manufacturer of the Patent of that own for upwards of twenty years during which period Mr Foster availed himself of the opportunity and made application of his sense to greatly varying cases with great success many of which were of a very complicated and distressing character

It is well known to all who have occasion to wear a Truss that the greatest benefit consists in its adaptation to the body of the wearer rather than the pattern Any ordinary mechanic may make a Truss but none but a skilful practitioner can apply it in a manner as effectually and oftentimes radically cure the complaint

Our experience has convinced us that Mr Foster has thoroughly examined into it and Drs Hayward and Dr J C Warren and other eminent surgeons with whom he has shown to us fully sustain the opinion we here express

PROFESSOR ALEX C BARRY'S

or Medicated Compound,

FOR beautifying, improving and preserving the Hair curing cuts bruises burns stings, rheumatism and all irritations of the skin A preparation the sale of which amount to one million of bottles annually would seem to need no advertisement, but as the thousands who purchase use and approve of it, have probably no idea of the enormous extent of the business done by Professor Barry, he gives herewith a plain statement of facts derived from his books and with them renders his earnest and hearty thanks to his innumerable patrons

Professor Barry's accounts of sales for the year 1852, show that during that year about 910 000 bottles of his Tricopherous were disposed of and that the cash product of this immense sale was nearly $180 000

This plain unvarnished tale is a better commentary on the value of the article than any thing its inventor could say If it were not peerless in its effect upon the hair—if it were not invaluable as a household remedy for cuts, bruises, burns, skin diseases &c —it would not, of course be so universally in demand The wealthy portion of the public would buy it at any price, but Professor Barry has reduced it to a figure so low that the poorest can avail themselves of its benefits

Sold in large bottles (price 25 cents) at wholesale and retail at the manufactory and depot 137 Broadway, New York and by the principal merchants and druggists throughout the United States and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c

Self Acquired Fame!

DR. JOHNSON'S

AMERICAN ANODYNE LINIMENT.

For Internal and External Use.

THIS wonderful Medicine notwithstanding it has received but the advantage of newspaper publicity has yet acquired a higher and more extended popularity than any other similar compound in the world It is entirely of vegetable extract perfectly safe to be administered even to the most delicate child and alike astonishing and satisfactory in its effects upon man or beast To those unacquainted with this invaluable medicine we say, Give it a fair trial, and we promise you a speedy cure of Coughs Colds Asthma Bronchitis Whooping Cough Influenza, Spitting of Blood, and all Lung Complaints, Chronic Diarrhœa and Dysentery, in all of which cases it should be used internally The effects of its external application in cases of Rheumatism, Spinal Disease Sprains Chapped Hands Bruises Burns and all descriptions of wounds are magical Persons troubled with Cramp in the Stomach Side or Bowels, Sore Throat Piles &c by a combined internal and external application of this Anodyne, cannot fail of certain and speedy cure The proprietor can produce volumes of testimonials in its favor but prefers to let it carry its own recommendations as it has done for forty years past We ask no man to use it after an unsatisfactory trial In its composition it unites several of the most penetrating and healing specifics known to the materia medica—The inventor of this article was in the constant and successful practice of medicine for more than twenty years

This is to certify that having been troubled for a number of years with a distressing cough and bleeding at the lungs and receiving no benefit from medical aid in 1848 I was told I was in the last stage of consumption My legs swelled so that I was unable to stir or help myself At this time your Liniment was recommended to me and by the use of three or four bottles I was entirely cured and have since been able to work every day I have had for the last twenty years been subject to severe attacks of the dysentery and never found any permanent relief until I took your Liniment, since which I have had no return of this complaint I can truly say I think your Anodyne Liniment was the means of saving my life JOHN I AIKINS

Brewer, Sept 29, 1852.

Dr Johnson Dear Sir—In consequence of having a fever sore on my leg it became entirely stiff at the knee and it was decided by the best surgeons that my leg must be amputated—but fortunately I heard of your Anodyne Liniment and by using three bottles, my leg was limbered and strengthened and for a number of years I have been able to use it about as well as the other I consider myself indebted to the use of your Liniment through the blessing of Providence for the use of my leg and would say to others who may need help in this way, try it, and no doubt you will be cured

AYER'S PILLS,

A NEW and singularly successful remedy for the cure of all Bilious diseases—Costiveness, Indigestion, Jaundice Dropsy, Rheumatism, Fevers, Gout, Humors, Nervousness Irritability, Inflammations, Headache, Pains in the Breast, Side Back and Limbs Female complaints, &c , &c —Indeed very few are the diseases in which a Purgative Medicine is not more or less required, and much sickness and suffering might be prevented, if a harmless but effectual Cathartic were more freely used No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails besides it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases which might have been avoided with the timely and judicious use of a good purgative This is alike true of Colds, Fever symptoms and Bilious derangements They all tend to become or produce the deep seated and formidable distempers which load the hearse all over the land Hence a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this Pill has been perfected with consummate skill to meet that demand An extensive trial of its virtues by Physicians, Professors and Patients, has shown results surpassing anything hitherto known of any medicine Cures have been effected beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth

Among the eminent gentlemen to whom we are allowed to refer for these facts are

Prof VALENTINE MOTT, the distinguished Surgeon of New York City

Doct A A HAYES, Practical Chemist of the Port of Boston, and Geologist for the state of Massachusetts

IRA J MOORE M D an eminent Surgeon and Physician, of the City of Lowell, who has long used them in his extensive practice

H C SOUTHWICK Esq , one of the first merchants in New York City

C A DAVIS, M D , Supt and Surgeon of the United States Marine Hospital at Chelsea, Mass

Did space permit we could give many hundred such names from all parts where the Pills have been used but evidence even more convincing than the certificates of these eminent public men is shown in their effects upon trial

These Pills the result of long investigation and study are offered to the public as the best and most complete which the present state of medical science can afford They are compounded not of the drugs themselves, but of the medicinal virtues only of Vegetable remedies extracted by chemical process, in a state of purity and combined together in such a manner as to insure the best results This system of composition for medicines has been found in the Cherry Pectoral and Pills both, to produce a more efficient remedy than had hitherto been obtained by any process The reason is perfectly obvious While by the old mode of composition, every medicine is burdened with more or less of acrimonious and injurious qualities, by this each individual virtue only that is desired for the curative effect is present All the inert and obnoxious qualities of each substance employed are left behind the curative virtues only being retained Hence it is self evident the effects should prove as they have proved more purely remedial and the Pills a surer, more powerful antidote to disease than any other medicine known to the world

As it is frequently expedient that my medicine should be taken under the counsel of an attending Physician and as he could not properly judge of a remedy without knowing its composition I have supplied the accurate Formulæ by which both my Pectoral and Pills are made to the whole body of Practitioners in the United States and British American Provinces If however there should be any one who has not received them they will be promptly forwarded by mail to his address

Of all the Patent Medicines that are offered, how few would be taken if their composition was known Their life consists in their mystery I have no mysteries

The composition of my preparations is laid open to all men and all who are competent to judge on the subject, freely acknowledge their convictions of their intrinsic merit The Cherry Pectoral was pronounced by scientific men to be a wonderful medicine before its effects were known Many eminent Physicians have declared the same thing of my Pills and even more confidently, and are willing to certify that their anticipations were more than realized by their effects upon trial

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach bowels, liver, and other organs of the body restoring their irregular action to health and by correcting wherever they exist such derangements as are the first origin of disease

Being sugar wrapped they are pleasant to take and being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity

For minute directions, see the wrapper on the Box

THE GREATEST

MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE!

MR KENNEDY of Roxbury has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple—He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face

Two or three bottles will clear the system of biles

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of erysipelas

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin

Two or three bottles warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of rheumatism

Three or four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum

Five to eight bottles will cure the very worst case of scrofula

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls should cure every humor in the system yet it is now a fixed fact If you have a humor it has to start There are no ifs nor ands hums nor haws about it suiting some cases but not yours I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston I know the effects of it in every case It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts I gave it to children a year old, to old people of sixty I have seen poor puny wormy looking children whose flesh was soft and flabby restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle

To those who are subject to a sick headache one bottle will always cure it It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness Some who have taken it have been costive for years and have been regulated by it Where the body is sound it works quite easy but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings but you must not be alarmed—they always disappear in from four days to a week There is never a bad result from it—on the contrary when that feeling is gone you will feel yourself like a new person I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to
